

Lonely Girl

Red Sun Rising

I've been waiting on a thrill
To touch your skin and feel you in Bewitched by your body
This can kill and make you sin
Don't let absence get you down
Don't let absence make you mess around
Then she started to think and started to cry
All alone in our bed just to get through the night
But lonely girl you're still mine
Lonely girl we've got the time
If it's enough to keep your mind
We got nothing to lose
You've been waiting on a call
To hear my words to let me in
But it only means
Let me in
Let me in
Don't let absence make you mess around
Then she started to think and started to cry
All alone in our bed just to get through the night
But lonely girl you're still mine
Lonely girl we've got the time
If it's enough to keep your mind
We got nothing to lose
Moments lost but not the faith in them
Impunity can overwhelm
Moments lost but not the faith in them
Then she started to think and started to cry
All alone in our bed just to get through the night
But lonely girl you're still mine
Lonely girl we've got the time
If it's enough to keep your mind
We got nothing to lose
