

Sunday

Hurts

There are times
When we question the things we know?
Never thought that the cracks
Will begin to showWe both know love is not that easy
I wish I'd known
That it would be this hard to be alone
Please, come homeThe loverless nights, they seem so long
I know that I'll hold you someday
Until you come back where you belong
It's just another lonely SundayIs this the end of a love
That has just began
I always hope that the best
It was yet to comeSo please, come back
Don't you leave me
We both so young
I know you need me too
And there'll always be
Times like theseThe loverless nights, they seem so long
I know that I'll hold you someday
Until you come back where you belong
It's just another lonely SundayMaybe we'll see that we were wrong
If ever we look back one day
Until you come back where you belong
It's just another lonely SundayLonely, lonelyIf you don't come back tomorrow
I'll be left here in the cold
If you don't come back tomorrow
I'll goThe loverless nights, they seem so long
I know that I'll hold you someday
Until you come back where you belong
It's just another lonely SundayAnd maybe we'll see that we were wrong
If ever we look back one day
Until you come back where you belong
It's just another lonely SundayLonely, lonely
Lonely Sunday

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>