

Veiled Woman

Entwine

Her frosted essence hints of winter coming closer, like the last time

My yearning presence's waiting for the dawn of grace, like the last timeAfter fall of leaves her spell was gone, black dyed november

After fall of leaves my love was gone, black dyed novemberThe snow has fallen and the woods are veiled by her,
she's so bewitching Greyness, of sullen mourning skies are torn asunder, she's so bewitchingAfter the leaves have fallen down
