Nothing Left

Anna Aaron

May senses left me. The temperature of your quiet body made my heart stop. I so need to love you. The river is low and fights as the ice grows. I think that he knows. Let the tide grow in your arms I can change. Met you break the silence so now I have nothing left. And if there is ransom and if there is fake and if there is real life and if there is fake. Polly I feel so bad. Youre the meanest girl Ive ever had. Looking at you drives me mad. Kissing you doesnt make me glad. Polly I feel so bad. Youre the most wicked girl Ive ever had. I want to sleep without that. I could try not to make you sad. Give me a trapdoor. Give me escape. A mind-machine to memorize her wonderful face
