Burning Bridges

Naked Eyes

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Just the other day I heard somebody say
Life is getting out of hand
And I feel inclined to take another line
Change my ways, a different planBurning bridges as you pass
You find yourself alone at last
All your enemies are conquered
Is your life the one you wanted?Now it seems so hard, stuck in what you start
Changing course, another dream
Theres no turning back, its just so hard to tack
Life is never what it seemsBurning bridges as you pass
You find yourself alone at last
All your enemies are conquered
Is your life the one you wanted?This is your life, this is your life
This is your life, this is your lifeTears in your eyes as you think
Of the lives youve forgotten, youve lost them
Full of surprise with your wide open eyes looking lostBurning bridges as you pass
You find yourself alone at last
All your enemies are conquered
Is your life the one you wanted?Burning bridges as you pass
You find yourself alone at last
All your enemies are conquered
Is your life the one you wanted?This is your life, this is your life
This is your life, this is your life
