Say Anything

Kate Voegele

Been here before, revolving door
We're caught up and I don't know what for anymore
We had the best and nothing less
But the second we fell out of step you up and left
Well this is so you, this is what you do
You'd rather make do than make a move
What'll it take now?
How do I make this matter enough to you?
Say you're a mess, say it's a shame
Why can't you at least pretend?
Say I should leave, you're over me
Say something, say anything
Anything, say anything please
What happened to the plans we made
And that contagious smile upon your face? It's all begun to fade
You used to be so careful with me
Making sure that we would always be each others' missing piece
We could still save these tattered pages
What do you say we start over baby?
This our chance and you're all I have
Don't let me slip through your hands
Say you're a mess, say it's a shame
Why can't you at least pretend?
Say I should leave, you're over me
Say something, say anything
Anything, say anything please
You know I miss you
You know I wish you missed me too
Baby tell me you do
Say you're a mess, say it's a shame
Why can't you at least pretend?
Say I should leave, you're over me
Say something, say anything
Anything, say anything please
