

Orion - The Hunter

Symphony X

Child of the oceans I am, walking on the waves
Touched by a vision of love, her beauty recognized
Stirring the pools, I silence and calm the tides to a glaze
Elusive to me, progressions are now violence in disguise
Chasing the morning star, wait for me...Now I'm blinded, this vision I cannot see
On a quest for light, and braving the seas
I cannot see my future destinyOhh... the hunter looks at you with eyes to kill
Praying for your life-the mighty rage against the stillFor whom the God's destroy, they first make mad
Receiving the sun, and falling like hourglass sand
Child of the sea I am, in starlight I reside
Glow silver and white, eternal and bright in the skyOn a quest for light, and braving the seas
Chasing the morning star, wait for me...
I cannot see my future destiny
Now I'm blinded, this vision I cannot see
Ohh... the hunter looks at you with eyes to kill
Ohh... the hunter looks at you with eyes to killPraying for your life-the mighty rage against the still
Ohh...the hunter
Praying for your life-the mighty rage against the stillOhh...the hunter
Ohh...the hunter
I'm the hunter
