

She Won't Follow You

Say Anything

Don't you go leaving, baby, I'll find you
Tell all your secrets, no one will want you
It's for your own good, I know what's best for you
If you won't sleep with me, there'll be no rest for you
Until the day you're broke, until you drop and choke
I'll be the man, this much I know
Until the empire falls until you think it all
You gave your love to me and now you are my property
You sold your soul, you can't retrieve the love I stole
From you, it's true, deny with everything you do
You're my property, you're my property
Sell you into bondage, baby, I own you
You'll entertain all my friends
Dressed in the latest trendy frocks
You'll get a tattoo that I am your patriarch
It's your ambition, soon you will fear the dark
(Because I lurk in your bed)
Until the day you see that you mean nothing to me
Until the day I find someone to fall in line
Without a single sin, with adding opinion
You gave your love to me and now you are my property
You sold your soul, you can't retrieve the love I stole
From you, it's true, deny with everything you do

You're my property, you're my property
Baby, I know you got all those crazy, lofty goals
Going to art school and following your dreams
And what not, bla, bla, bla
Just throw it to the side
You know I can support us all on my own
And, worse case, I'll just have to sell some drugs
To my little brother's friends
If you do have to sell your body
Once or twice or seven times
It'll be worth it, and trust me
One day this'll all be a distant, distant dream
(Dream, dream)
Until the earth's removed or Daddy don't approve
Whatever happens first, depending on my mood

You gave your love to me and now you are my property
You sold your soul, you can't retrieve the love I stole
From you, it's true, deny with everything you do
You're my property, you're my property
You're my property

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>