Like You Never

Trapdoor Social

Run, run like you've never run
Running all the way back to the place where your love first begunDream, dream like you're seventeen Dream it back until everything's just as perfect as it once seemedSing, sing you like you've never sung
Sing it so loud that they'll travel from places you thought were to far too comeFight, like you're not scared to die
Do it for all of the people that always have stood right by your sideBetween your fears
It's shining out
Go on and take it
And turn the world aroundFast, it's faster than you or I
Turn around doing so many things you thought that you'd never tryYou kept, you kept coming up for breath,
But what you wanted was so deep you'd get there and have nothing leftLet it go, overflow, possibilities
Pushing pieces into place and make yourself believe
No mistakes, it's make or break and everyone will see you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/