Size Matters

Brent Burns

Uh dada, uh dada, uh dada dadada da da da!
Uh dada, uh dada, uh dada dada ba ba ba!
I've been sizin' you up and stuff watchin' you live life large
Enough for the both of us to big up the love
Got the measure of the man in you, it's more than the sum of the boys
It's true what they say, you gotta big up the love
I was checkin' nice things you do, standing in the Starbucks queue
You buy coffee for a stranger who's down on their luck
Random acts of kindness flow, compassion from a hand I'd like to hold
It does it for me and I can't get enough
Oh don't confuse me when I say
Oh please don't take this the wrong way
You can lead a heart to love but you can make it fall
I'm tired of loving small 'cos
Size matters, size matters but not how you think
I'm talkin' 'bout your heart and what you do with it
The more seeds you plant the more flowers will grow
So big up the love 'til it overflows
Most brooks to shallow to swim in only interested in one thing
It's all so meaningless 'cos puddles dry up
A view of the world so small it limits
The size of the dream and you achieving it
A new panorama with your arms around me
I see my life how it should be
You can lead a heart to love but you can make it fall
I'm tired of loving small 'cos
Size matters, size matters but not how you think
I'm talkin' 'bout your heart and what you do with it
The more seeds you plant the more flowers will grow
So big up the love 'til it overflows, big up the love 'til it overflows
Big it up, big it up, big it up, big it up
Big it up, big it up
Big it up, big it up, big it up, big it up
Big it up, big it up
You can lead a heart to love but you can make it fall
I'm tired of loving small
Uh dada, uh dada, uh dada dadada da da da!
Uh dada, uh dada, uh dada dada ba ba ba!
Size matters but not how you think

I'm talkin' 'bout your heart and what you do with it
The more seeds you plant the more flowers will grow
So big up the love 'til it overflows, big up the love 'til it overflows
Big it up, big it up, big it up, big it up
Big it up, big it up
It's the little things you do that show me how big you are
So big up the love 'til it overflows
