Sunshine

The Reign of Kindo

so you threw away your heart again found a reason not to start again well i got up on the pit with you shed some light up on a simple truth when the sun sets down on your heart you put on your crying to the sunrise then the dawn shines brightly to dry your tears dry your tears from the night (oh now)doesnt that feel better doesnt that feel better doesnt that feel better now
when the sun shines down,down ah, ah ah ah ah
take your sorrow to the river side drop it in and let it float on by lay your worry down, set it free throw your burden to the easy
when the sun sets down on your heart
and the dawn shines brightly to dry your tears dry your tears from the night (oh now)
when the sun shines down,down
get a taste from what you've always love cause it goes down, easy dont go wastin time with anyone who cant make you smile play your favorite song and sing it loud all the numbers, you dont need a crowd

dry your tears from the night (oh now)
