

Poison In The Ink

The New Amsterdams

Some might say it's over rated
Staring at their shoes
You're arrows don't have poison
But they bruise I can't make peace with you All my heart is on these pages
Open to abuse
I should try to be dishonest
But I lose I can't make peace with you Angry eyes, there's poison in the ink
You've got so much time to think about it
Try to put your finger on it
And figure out what's right for me and mine Expletives and explanations
Fade bruise colored blue
A thicker skin develops
On the wound I won't change it for you Angry eyes, there's poison in the ink
You've got so much time to think about it
Try to put your finger on it
And figure out what's right for me and mine Some might say it's over rated
Staring at their shoes
You're arrows don't have poison
But they bruise It's never been for you
I'm just telling the truth
