Poison In The Ink

The New Amsterdams

Some might say it's over rated
Staring at their shoes
You're arrows don't have poison

But they bruiseI can't make peace with youAll my heart is on these pages Open to abuse

I should try to be dishonest

But I loseI can't make peace with youAngry eyes, there's poison in the ink You've got so much time to think about it

Try to put your finger on it

And figure out what's right for me and mineExpletives and explanations

Fade bruise colored blue

A thicker skin develops

On the woundI won't change it for youAngry eyes, there's poison in the ink You've got so much time to think about it

Try to put your finger on it

And figure out what's right for me and mineSome might say it's over rated

Staring at their shoes

You're arrows don't have poison
But they bruiseIt's never been for you
I'm just telling the truth
