

Stars will be Shining

Mishka

Will be shining there,
will be shining there,
will be shining there for you (x2) Maybe one day will find a natural place not so far from the ocean sand Take your time to find a natural place and look up into the sky Stars will be shining there for you Stars will be shining there for you You may try to so mess other places where the only thing at goes is try even tryin to see a desperate faces but looking to the book of life Stars will be shining there for you Stars will be shining there for you I try to find the words that will comfort your soul and take it to a higher place some try on two words that never go old but right now to you all I'm saying Stars will be shining there for you Stars will be shining there for you It's a beautiful night tonight turn off your T.V. turn off your lantern Baby come outside
'Cuz no for so long, clouds will shatter your sight Decisions, decisions so many choices when you gonna make your bed it's a song in your heart but it's yawned by the voices that vibrate on in your head Stars will be shining there for you
Stars will be shining there for you Will be shining there,
will be shining there,
will be shining there for you (x3) Maybe one day will find a natural place
not so far from the ocean sand Take the time to find a natural place and look up into the sky
