Message to the Lonely

The Main Squeeze

I picked up my feet as I sat down
Felt nice to feel 'fore I left town
I swam through the city lights
All the faces looks the same, familiar faces play the game, but,This is a message to the lonely hearts
We know who we are, woah
We're in the same world, but we are not alone
Welcome home
Welcome homeOh, I will bet one
To drown all I've loved
In this perfect storm is gone just as the wind has blown
Wistful contemplation
Take one more look inside
For too much control, too many times
To hard I try, oh yeah yeahThis is a message to the lonely hearts
We know who we are, woah
We're in the same world, but we are not alone
Welcome home
Welcome homeMessage to the lonely
You are not the only
There's someone who cares
Message to the lonely
You are not alone
Ooh, simply seeking homeThis is a message to the lonely hearts
We know who we are, woah
We're in the same world, but we are not alone
This is a message to the lonely hearts
We know who we are, woah
We're in the same world but we are not alone
Welcome home
Welcome home
Welcome home
