

Say Something New

The Concretes

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

What a strange thing to say
As you pass me
On your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me Well, say something new Well, say something new
Something new What a strange thing to do
As you passed me
On your way out, your way out
And all the things
I had in mind for you and me Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new But something you do
But something you do
Something you do Well, say something new
Well, something new
Something new But something you do
But something you do
Something you do Say something new
Say something new
About you, about you, about you
