

Love's Enough

Thomas Dybdahl

I wanted to stay
On those darkest of days
'Cause I finally found someone to stay with I wanted to fight
On those longest of nights
'Cause I finally found someone to fight it with I still recall the good times
Good things will come
We've been through harder times than this before
We've all got wounds and scars we'll never show So go ahead and cry
But don't you dare give up
Not gonna lie
And say that love's enough
But love's enough
I wanted to dance
Take a chance on romance
'Cause I finally found someone to dance with I wanted to sing
In the bleakest of springs
'Cause I finally found someone to sing it with I still recall the good times
Yes, good things will come
We've been through harder times than this before
We've all got wounds and scars we'll never show So go ahead and cry
But don't you dare give up
Not gonna lie
And say that love's enough
But love's enough
It's easier to drift away
Play the games we've always played
And to say the things that cowards say
And to drift away I wanted to stay
On those darkest of days 'Cause I finally found someone to stay with I still recall the good times
Yes, good things will come
We've been through harder times than this before
We've all got wounds and scars we'll never show We've been through harder times than this before
We've all got wounds and scars we'll never show So go ahead and cry
But don't you dare give up
Not gonna lie
And say that love's enough
But love's enough Stay is enough
Love is enough
