

Get It Right

Lee Rogers

So no one hears it but yourself, no one sees it now but you
And all the things you want to be, all the things you wished you where
And when the silence never says much
And you feel as if your roll in life has gone
You been thrashing out an answer
Been breaking up you're truth for so long
And thats wrongGet it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crime
Get it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crimeFor the sake of conversation, for the sake of all those crazy things you say
You can take the situation, you take that junk and you throw it all away, away
So lets not play these little games
Lets not give the dark no truth
Be all the things you want to be, all the things you wished you whereAnd when the silence never says much
And you feel as if your roll in life has gone
You been thrashing out an answer
Been breaking up you're truth for so long
And thats wrongGet it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crime
Get it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crime
Get it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crime
Get it right its living time
Your walking through this world like it's a crimeHey hey, hey hey
