My Wrecking Ball

Ryan Adams

Driving through the streets tonight
It's hard I got the windows down
I wish I could call you
I wish you were still aroundNothing much left in the tank
Somehow this thing still drives
You forgot what it needed
But somehow still survivesAnd all the walls we built they must come downHey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and maybe knock me down
Hey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and maybe knock me down
Hey, you're wrecking ball
Won't you come and knock me down
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down tonightLying in the bed at night
Feeling like I'm somebody else
My thoughts inside my head get lost inside that haunted houseEveryone I used to know
Left their dreams by the door
I accidentally kick 'em that's how I can tell you're still not sureAnd all the walls we built, they rise and they fallBut hey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and maybe knock me down
Hey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and maybe knock me down
Hey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and maybe knock me down
Hey, you're my wrecking ball
Won't you come and knock me down
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down tonightCome and knock me down
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down tonight
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down tonight
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down
Come and knock me down tonightDriving through the streets at night
It's hard I got the windows down
I wish I could call you
I wish you were still around
