Laundry Echo

Ceres

You can cry your eyes out darling cry your eyes out
But I know why you're here

You can write your name down go on and write your name down
But I know why you're here
And I know why you're here

But in this laundry everything is everywhere now
And I am the nothing that's coming out your mouth
And I won't be saved until I learn my first name
But in this laundry everything is everywhere now

I'm used to falling so much more no I know now
I used to say

laundry everything is ecoing now
And I'm the nothing that's coming out your mouth
And I won't be saved until I learn my lost name
Cause in this laundry everything is ecoing now

And I can feel you pushing on me every single day
I am nothing
It's not the things you say
I'm gonna change that's right I'm gonna change
