Back To The World

Curtis Mayfield

I know you're thinking
I've been better off without you by my side
But baby, this season
I don't want another cold rainy JulyYou would think that I'd be better now
But I'm not 'cause I don't have you, yeah
You would think that I'd be better now
But I'm not 'cause I don't have you, yeahCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world
Come back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world, yeahAnd I still remember
The way you used to gently touch my face
And since last December
I've discovered that no one can take your placeDon't be thinking that I'm better now
'Cause I'm not, 'cause I don't have you, no, I don't, yeah
Don't be thinking that I'm better now
'Cause I'm not 'cause I don't have you, you, babyCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world
Come back to the world, come back to the world
Come on back to my world, yeahAnd when the nights get lonely
I think of what you told me
Saying that I was the one, yeah
Tell me, you can feel it once again
I know that we can love like we did then, so
Bring it on homeCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world
Come back to the world, come back to the world
Where you belong, my, my, my, my, my worldCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world
Come back to the world, come back to the world
Yeah, baby, come on back to my world, yeah, yeah, yeahCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, back to my world
Come back to the world, come back to the world
Come on back to my world, yeah, yeahCome back to the world, come back to the world
Baby, you know you need to be my world
With me baby, right now, I can't make it without you, baby
Oh, baby back to my world, yeah, hey, baby
