

Coheed and Cambria

In our sleep there's more to this nightmare
 Will she beg for your mercy?
 Slowly but sure, I'm hoping what comes
 And in the absence of love At night she'll kick and she'll fight
 Should they fail in his sight
 I'll worry from all
 The end of us all Please Mom, they're coming for me
 Please Mom, run, run lock your door
 They're coming for me When the clock reads 21:13
 All work will stop
 And the ground will relieve Please mom they're coming for me
 Please mom, run, run lock your door
 They're are coming for When I fall asleep
 Your face is all I see
 Dear momma, I love
 I fall asleep
 Your face is all I dream
 Dear momma, I love Oh, [Incomprehensible]
 In the face you miss the most
 You'll see them soon stop
 I bid you fair warning, stay up till you When the memories occur
 Of a life you haven't lived
 Stay still, you will
 I've got a secret to hide
 And I've got a secret to hide In the words of father to son
 Thy kingdom come Whoa whoa whoa
 Whoa whoa whoa
 Whoa whoa whoa
 Whoa whoa whoa Please mom, they're coming for me
 Please mom, run, run lock your door
 They're coming for When I fall asleep
 Your face is all I see
 Dear momma, I love
 I fall asleep
 Your face is all I dream
 Dear momma, I love Whoa whoa whoa
 Whoa whoa whoa
 When I fall asleep
 Whoa whoa whoa

Whoa whoa whoa
When I fall asleep Those days we lost our dignity
The eager dare to stand
The ride home through victory
On the innocent they tread But I robot, will never die
I robot, will never die
But I robot, will never die
But I robot, will never die
