

Dealer

Deep Purple

If you fool around
With the dealer
Remember soon
You'll have to pay, yeahHe'll creep behind you
Like a hunter
Just to steal your soul awayI don't want no one
Messing with my woman
But just the same
I don't see nobody
Fooling with youIf you're snow blind
Madonna can hold you
But if you don't understand
There is nothing she can do for youRunning from the dealer
Trying to save your soulI can feel the fire
Coming from inside you
I know what it's like
'Cos I've been burned beforeAin't no mercy in the hunger
You're a fool to yourself
'Cos your dealer keeps you begging for moreRunning from the dealer
Trying to save your soulIn the beginning all you wanted
Was the calm before the storm
If the bluebird plays the eagle, yeah
He finds his song will turn to stone, dealer

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>