

Carry Home

The Gun Club

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Come down to the willow garden with me
Come go with me, come go and see Although I've howled across fields
And my eyes turned gray
Are yours still the same?
Are you still the same? Carry home, I have returned
Through so many highways and so many tears Your letter never survived the heat of my hand
My burning hand, my sweating hand
Your love never survived the heat of my heart
My violent heart in the dark Carry home, I have returned
Through so many highways and so many tears Carry home to where I am from Carry to the place that I have come
Carry to the dust and flies behind me
Carry to the cracks and caves on the face of me Oh, but I didn't change, I just had to work
Oh, but I didn't change, I just had to work
And now I'm home and now I'm home
Do you still want me? Now that I'm home Come down to the willow garden with me
Come go with me, come go and see Although I've howled across fields
And my eyes turned gray
Are yours still the same?
Are you still the same? So carry home, I have returned
Through so many highways
And so many tears, yeah Oh, but I didn't change, I just had to work
No, but I didn't change, I just had to work
And now I'm home and I carry home
Do you still want me? Now that I'm home
