

Running

311

Here in the world feel it flowing
River of life on a human journey
Don't be afraid of becoming the sea
Don't worry yourself, don't worry yourself, don't worry yourself
Many stories will be left untold
But understand everything must go
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running for shelter now
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running
What's that you do, you're running around
There's people that need you and you're letting down
When it's time to care you always leave town
Don't hurry yourself, don't hurry yourself, don't hurry yourself
There's some wildness, there and mercy
It's the emptiness we love touching
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running for shelter now
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running
Give thanks and praise for good things you found
Humble people, not ashamed nor proud
And always try to keep your feet on the ground
And love yourself
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running for shelter now
Slow, slow lover, rub you down
We don't want no one hurting, don't make a sound
Oh living is a journey, waking, believing, running

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>