

Arise

Chris Sligh

Stars go down in the western sky
The light fades in as the darkness dies
Sunlight, sweet sunlight brings the day that You've created
Perfect remedy for all that tears at me Arise, arise with the morning
Arise, Your mercies are new
Arise, arise with the morning
That finds me running back to You Darkness comes and covers all my faults
Tears fall down and sting my wounds like salt
Hopes fade till I'm caught in the day that You've created
Perfect remedy for all that tears at me Arise, arise with the morning
Arise, Your mercies are new
Arise, arise with the morning
That finds me running back to You I'm anxiously waiting
Redemption is brimming with the stories created
Each new day I know You are coming Arise, arise with the morning
Arise, Your mercies are new
Arise, arise with the morning
That finds me running back to You
I'm running back to You
