

The Image

Burning Image

Each time I fight the battle, they've won again

And I know there is no use in denying, they just can't win Oh, won't they bring my soul-----And they see that there is troubled waters, they move, they cry

And they see this is no tomorrow and they decide Lord, have mercy on my soul! And they stand there and ask me these questions

What do I know?

And they see this is just no denying

They just can't go
Lord, have mercy on my soul!
