Do You Even Know?

Rae Morris.

Blow away, in time,
It's hard to see yourself in the corner
I gather reasons why,
Try to justify what i taught her
Did you love,
Did you love someone?
To the bitter end,
When the love couldn't come
And you want to leave, where you came from
And cast your heart
And mind to the oceanDo you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know me at all?It's brave to seek sometimes,
But i'm not brave enough to get over
The many miles i've run,
Have only put more weight
On my shouldersWhen i loved,
When i loved someone
To the bitter end,
When the love couldn't come
I just want to leave,
Where we came from
And cast my heart and mind to the oceanDo you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know me at all?Head-tied,
Over what we're doing
My mind,
Wasn't built for thisDo you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?

Do you even know that,
I keep everything in?
Do you even know me at all?
