Your Final Setting Sun

Jason Lytle

He was found face down on a desert floor
From the looks of him he couldn't take anymore
If he was dead or alive I just wasn't sure
And wow all of the sudden he uttered these wordsSaid he ended up living a simple life
And he ain't never did manage to find a wife
He said he travelled alone and he tried to do right
I understand he asked me about that light
And I saidThat light you see is the setting sun
I know you seen a few friend but tonight is gonna be your final one
That light you see is the setting sun
I know you love this life but say goodbye this is your final setting sunAnd with only a moment or two to reflect
He said I really only got one thing I regret
I regret right now that I'm saying goodbye
For the last time he asked me about that light
And I said

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/