With Him

Katie Thompson

Isn't this, you know, kinda crazy?
A part of me finds it hard to believe
Two adults, no yelling no blaming for everything that came between.

You look good and I hear you're quite successful
I always knew you would be.
Your children look just like you
And your wife is quite beautiful
Oh, me?

Well I met a guy from St Louis
Kinda came out of nowhere, but he's nice.
I was on tour and he asked me out after one show
And I thought maybe I should give it a try.

And suddenly I felt like a girl in college again
Similar to the feelings I'd get with you.
The butterflies inside
Constantly tongue tied
And I thought maybe this could be good.

And now with him
I just fall again with him
With him
I just feel again with him
I come alive, I feel like the girl I thought I'd never find
With him I just love again.

I used to believe
That we'd be together for eternity
It was hard to see
That future wasn't for you and me

Remember when we laid in the park
To soak up the sun
And how scared you were of all the pigeons.
You were convinced they were on a mission to chase you out
As we kissed I think one pooped in your hair

I'm sorry I don't mean to get nostalgic and all
Look there are things I wanna know
Like how did you and your wife meet
Did you end up proposing on a beach
I know that's how you wanted ours to go

To tell you the truth, being here with you is so strange
As you sip your coffee, I feel my heart rearrange.
I'm afraid
So afraid

You smile and you laugh and you still give me hope
The what ifs the could have beens
But we'll never know
I wish I was stronger
I'm sorry I need to go.

Cause with you
I just fall again, with you I just
With you
I just feel again with you
I come alive, I feel like the girl I thought I'd never like With you I just
With Him must
With you I just love again.

Lyrics Submitted by Laura Power

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/