

Where I Belong

Rachel Proctor

I've wished a million wishes on a big empty sky
And I've spent too many endless nights alone
Wondering if I was broken and, and why everything felt so wrong
And where do I belongI see beyond the end of time when I look into your eyes
It's so much bigger than this life and everything's right
I feel so safe, safe as a child in your arms
This is where I belongI've seen my share of troubles
Oh, oh, tears I've shed in vain
I watched my dreams crumble
But all along the way, someone heard me prayThe house is quiet now and my, my heart is full
And all the ones I love lay fast asleep and I am complete
I turn out the light and I whisper goodnight
And I know, this is where I belong
This is where I belong
