Seven

Ashley Maher

deny whatâ€™s wild
and run the risk
of perishing in her flames

sheâ€™ll rise
sheâ€™ll defy you
despite your moves
to sully her bad name

sheâ€™s yours, alone
sheâ€™s crucial to the truth
you seek

you cannot grow
until you know
just what she is needing
down down deep beneath

oh,
seven seven seven
the angels on the way
singing songs to carry on
carry on â€˜till Christmas Day
the devils â€˜round the room
singing, â€œThrow your cloak away!
Howl at the midnight moon.â€•

I seek the place where devils and angels sing together one love, but many-a-face subject to the same holy weather

trade in your wings
for one night on the town, wherever she may reveal just what you feel for feelings cannot stay undercover

oh,

singing, â€œThrow your cloak away!

now some go a wandâ€™ring
down some dark alley
winding their way back
to the same painful valley and some canâ€™t find fire fast enough to be burned
just what was that thing

I tried to hide
my hungers when they rose to greet me â€œWe will be fed,â€•
is what they said
long before they grew to defeat me

but sometimes,
behind the devilâ€™s cry
is some worthy yearning
a need for love
for a hurting soul whoâ€™s heart is burning

hooves for haloes
wings for horns
countless the way
to be born
