

My Paw's Bigger Than Your Paw

Brent Holmes & Bernie the Bear

The little black bear went a-walking through the woods, skipping all around his neighborhood

It wasn't very long before he ran into a little red fox

Playing with a friend by the den that went in beneath the rocks

The little bear said "My paw's bigger than your paw!" and he waved his paw in the air

"My paw's bigger than your paw" that's because I'm a bear

"My claws are longer than your claws, and I make bigger tracks"

"My paw's bigger than your paw, and that's just a natural fact"

And the fox and her friend by the den that went in, looked at the bear and said "So?"

So the little black bear went a-walking through the woods, skipping all around his neighborhood

It wasn't very long before he ran into a pretty little skunk

Eating supper with her brothers and her sisters on an old tree trunk

The little bear said "My paw's bigger than your paw!" and he waved his paw in the air

"My paw's bigger than your paw" that's because I'm a bear

"My claws are longer than your claws, and I make bigger tracks"

"My paw's bigger than your paw, and that's just a natural fact"

And the pretty little skunk by the old tree trunk, looked at the bear and said "So?"

So the little black bear went a-walking through the woods, skipping all around his neighborhood

It wasn't very long before he ran into a little raccoon

Down by the stream, fishing by the light of the moon

The little bear said "My paw's bigger than your paw!" and he waved his paw in the air

"My paw's bigger than your paw" that's because I'm a bear

"My claws are longer than your claws, and I make bigger tracks"

"My paw's bigger than your paw, and that's just a natural fact"

And the little raccoon by the light of the moon, looked at the bear and said "So?"

So the little black bear went a-walking through the woods, skipping all around his neighborhood

It wasn't very long before he found a big bear in a tree

Playing with a friend on a limb that was high as it could be

The little bear said "Your paw's bigger than your paw!" and he waved his paw in the air

"Your paw's bigger than your paw" you must be a bigger bear

"Your claws are longer than my claws, I'm sure you make bigger tracks"

"Your paw's bigger than my paw, and that's just a natural fact"

And the bear with his friend sitting high on a limb, looked at the bear and said "So?"

“My paw’s bigger than your paw!” and he waved his paw in the air
“My paw’s bigger than your paw” “I must be a bigger bear”
“My claws are longer than your claws, and I make bigger tracks”
“My paw’s bigger than your paw, and that’s just a natural fact”
