My World

Sr-71

The fastest man in the world, fast asleep at the wheel
Nobody wants to be alone, so how did I get, here
When I look at you, I see him starin' through
A wink and a smile, 'cuz he's been inside of you
Is he all the things you, tried to change me into?
Is he everything to you?
Does he make you high, make you real?
Does he make you cry, does he know the way you feel?
Love is all around you, your universe is full
But in my world, there is only you
I can still find the smell
On my clothes and skin
I can still see your face, when you're sleeping next to him
Is he all the things you, tried to change me into?
Tell me, does he make you high, make you real?
Does he make you cry, does he know the way you feel?

Love is all around you, your universe is full
But in my world
I've had enough of fears, you let them out
Now I wrap myself around you
Like a blanket full of doubt
The darkness grows, the sunlight stings
He's your everything
Does he make you high, does he make you real?
Does he make you cry, does he know the way you feel?
Love is all around you, your universe is full
But in my world
You make me high, you make me real
You make me cry, now you know the way I feel
Love is all around you, your universe is full
But in my world, there is only you
