Idol

Matt Costa

Come get what you deserve
Rolled up in your shirt
Yellow's blowin' heat
Purple takes a seat
So carry it slow
To the rattle of your rhythm and bones
As the rising slope
Pays you back, you will know
You are not an idol
You will soon find out what you've become
Washing out what's yours and mine
You're a part of a larger life line
See what you see not what you want to
See what you see not what you want to
You are not an idol
You will soon find out what you've become
You are not an idol
You will soon find out what you've become
You are not an idol
You will soon find out what you've become
