Logging Off

Sondre Lerche

Just another excuse
To postpone what's to come
Out of sight and online
You were onto my scheme
You were under my thumb
And I thought up the mirror
And fucked up my lines
Let your eyes in the mirror
And you read my mindIn the blink of an eye
We're expecting the world
Only zeroes and ones
Might have met our demands
In a one-eighty twirl
Caught a glimpse in the mirror
When you didn't see
Looked for you in a mirror
But you were next to meGot so restless and dumb
Everyone all at once
Promised I would keep in touch
But I singled you out
'Cause I needed someone
Then I looked in the mirror
I thought I saw a ghost
Looked for you in a mirror
But you were logging off
