

Home Again Hello

Don Adams

Home again it's good to be Home again just you and me Did you know i miss you so Home again hello Home again from different places different voices difference faces different things you say and do home again with you home again hello
home again hello
home again from everywhere home again for good aswell when theres no place else to go home is you hello things were getting such a drag that's why i packed my backs took off somewhere new no i'm home again with you Home again from different places different voices difference faces
I'm home again with you home again hello
home again hello
home is you hello
