Set Sail

Frances

They say love is an island
Beautiful at the distance
Some are trying to find it
Some are trying to find a way outYou've been on both sides
Of these ruth waters
Somehow you survived
But you came out on your ownAnd you still need someone
Will you set sail
Will you set sail tonight
Till we see land
Never look back or behindI don't know if you get will lost at sea
Or we will end up where we are supposed to beAre you brave enough to swim against the tideLove leaves you stranded
But that's the way we want it
Save in our own refuge
No one else will ever reach itWill you be that someone
Will you set sail
Will you set sail tonight
Till we see land
Never look back or behindI don't know if we get lost at sea
Or we will end up where we are supposed to beAre you brave enough to swim against the tideAny breaking wave could lead you home
Or turn you upside down and leave you here
No one is here to hurt you
But no one is there to save youWill you risk it allWill you set sail
Will you set sail tonight
Till we see land
Never look back or behindI don't know if we will get lost at sea
Or we will end up where we are supposed to beAre you brave enough to swim against the tide
