Human After All

Ultra

Is it any wonder now the stars around me
Are not the brightest of them all
From standing proud to falling like a domino down
And out somehow
All that I remeber now about being by your side
Is having just the most amazing time
But nothing lasts forever
We're just human after allI feel stronger now but it's not easy
To feel the pride after the fall
Feeling like I've gotta go
So it's looking like I'll never know
Why you left at all
It'll hit you with the power at any time, at any hour
But we can learn to make it if we all stand tall
It doesn't have to matter
We're just human after allI work it out and I feel somehow
That you were bringing out the best in me
So why do I feel down when changes always do you good?
Am I feeling like I should?From standing proud to falling like a domino down
And out somehow It'll hit you with the power at any time, at any hour
Let it be a lesson to you all
Your crying doesn't matterIt doesn't matter at all
We're just human
It doesn't matter at all
We're just human
It doesn't matter at all
We're just human
