

The Sky Is Crying

Eric Clapton

The sky is crying, look at the tears rolling down the streets
The sky is crying, look at the tears rolling down the streets
I looked out my window, the rain was falling down in sheets
My baby left me this morning, Lord knows, I don't know the reason why
My baby left me this morning, I don't know the reason why
And every time I think about it, I hang my head and cry
The sun is shining, although it's raining in my heart
The sun is shining, although it's raining in my heart
I love my baby, I hate to see us part, yeah yeah [Incomprehensible]

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>