

Power Tool

W.J. Henze

I shut your eyes and I fed you lies
I'm up inside, now I cannot hide
Those burns on your skin
And the stains on your grin
I took your pain
Now you're dropped again
I can't feel the way you want me to
I'll use you, abuse you, conveniently lose you
And I can't feel the way you want me to
It's just, just my power tool
Who takes your hand?
Who makes you dance?
Who's in your pants?
Your lover, player, president
I can't feel the way you want me to
I'll use you, abuse you, conveniently lose you
And I can't feel the way you want me to
It's just, just my power tool
You lose, don't confuse what I say
I took you then threw you away
You're through, don't misconstrue what I said
All I wanted was just a little head
You lose, don't confuse what I say

I took you then threw you away
You're through, don't misconstrue what I said
All I wanted was just a little head
I can't feel the way you want me to
I'll use you, abuse you, conveniently lose you
And I can't feel the way you want me to
It's just, just my power tool
You lose, don't confuse what I say
I took you then threw you away
You're through, don't misconstrue what I said
All I wanted was just a little head
You lose, don't confuse what I say
I took you then threw you away
You're through, don't misconstrue what I said
All I wanted was just a little head

I threw you away
I threw you away
I threw you away
I can't feel the way you want me to
I'll use you, abuse you, I'll use you, abuse you
I can't feel the way you want me to
It's just, just my power tool
