

Levitation

God Module

A strange reoccurring feeling like I'm not me
My false reaction
Pretending that I can see
That were alive for a reason
Have faith but don't ask why
Were capable of all these feelings
If it means nothing then we die

As we start to rise above
The disbelief of broken love
There's no way to know what we'll find
As we invert the rules of time

Everything starts to melt away
No more emotion or words to say
All I've lost will come back to me
An endless loop of what used to be

I cant see why I feel like I do if this is not real
Why I should love instead of just hate and follow your rules if I know my fate
