Burning Saints

Indecision

Where is the center of the world? arrogance is ignorance, arrogance is blinding Empires are temporary - every government is temporary no standard prevails - nothing lasts forever your assimilation is at hand shield your eyes from the sun and kneel and pray waiting for the destruction of the new roman empire waiting for the end of televised war and plastic culture reaching across the world and spreading like a fucking cancer Amputate it, sterilize it and start all over
