In Two (The Lament)

Jennifer Knapp

Finish up your coffee, love
It's getting cold
Let's finish up this fight tonight
Before the sun draws neigh and I'm oldOh have mercy on me I'm a girl
And though I'm cruel and you cry
I won't shiver 'cause I know how to break a man
I know how to break a man in twoStill you're suffering my love
Oh, who's to blame?
You might be tired
But I'm not through fanning the flameOh have mercy on me I'm a girl
Well though I'm cruel and you cry
I won't shiver 'cause I know how to break a man
I know how to break a man in twoOh by the tidings of my tongue
I lie and sing what can't be unsung
Well my soul torn in two by the things that I say to you
By the things that I sayOh have mercy on me I'm a girl
Well though I'm cruel and you cry
I won't shiver 'cause I, Lord I know how to break a man
I know how to break a man, I know how to break us man in two
