

They're Building Walls Around Us

Moneybrother

Sorry baby, sadly, I gave up, I know
I was out of options with nowhere left to go
I was much too young back then baby, just a kid
It just seemed I stayed that way no matter what I did

Oh let's say it
They're building walls around us now
Oh let's say it
They're building walls around us now

My friends say:
- Hey by splitting, what did you achieve?
For all intents and purposes, it's easier to leave
Now it just seems whoever else approaches me,
There's always an imbalance, I mean, ideologically

It seems that I fell out of luck into the
Outstretched arms of fuck up, I know
It seems that I fell out of luck into the
Outstretched arms of fuck up, I know

Now I seem blindfolded, I just tag a long
When I found out that I did wrong
Baby you were gone
I smile and shake my head like this, what else can I do?
I keep getting signs baby, all leading back to you

Oh let's say it
They're building walls around us now
Oh let's say it
They're building walls around us now

It seems that I fell out of luck into the
Outstretched arms of fuck up, I know
It seems that I fell out of luck into the
Outstretched arms of fuck up, I know
