

I'm Alive

Sasha

When I wake up and the sun won't shine and I see the bedlam all around me I turn over and go back to sleep again If I could skip or erase this day but it's much too young to feel sorry so I'm trying to get on my feet again now and then I start talking to myself cause I'm ashamed to tell anybody else do I really need to ask for someone's help to find out that I'm alive and I can't get myself outta here
I'm alive
I'm alive Man in the mirror why you're staring at me you have to see the same face tomorrow do me a favour and get out of my way for today - just today It's not the answer but the question that makes life a little bearable like dating your ex-wife do I really need to back out and to hide I decide that I'm alive and I can't get myself outta here
I'm alive
and I do what I have to pull me through my life I'm alive I tell you one thing, I do need something I pool of good luck charms to bathe in I tell you one thing, I do need something I pool of good luck charms to bathe in and hope I'm gettin out alive When I wake up and the sun won't shine and I see the bedlam around me I turn over and get back to sleep again and again and again
