

Buried Alive

Echo & The Bunnymen

Buried alive
Person unknown
Dying inside
Half the way home Somewhere under a delvaux moon
Childhoods end came too soon
Came too soon Don't want to know when
Don't want to know why
Don't want to believe that life is just to die
You were the one who sang lullabies
I'm still hanging out to dry, out to cry
Hey now, hey now
Don't you cry It's just the dying of the light
Time to say our goodbyes
I'll look for you in that goodnight
Is anybody here?
I want to go out, the way I came in
My flame blowing out
In the summer wind Somewhere under a delvaux moon
Childhoods end came too soon
Came too soon Hey now, hey now
Don't you cry
It's just the dying of the light
Time to say our goodbyes
I'll look for you in that goodnight
Goodnight, goodnight, goodnight

Songwriters

MCCULLOCH, IAN STEPHEN / SERGEANT, WILLIAM Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc., Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>