Drive

Ed Kowalczyk

Oooh... Oooh...Headed out into my desert all alone and thirsty for something more than the whiskey that had become my water
Would you mind if I put this on your shoulder?I need something moreHere I am,
standing inside your love like a child.
Falling asleep at the wheel of my life
and letting you drive.
I'm letting you drive.Oooh...Headed out into my dark night,
like a soldier surrounded in the losing fight.
Probability of a victory's over.
Would you mind if I put this on your shoulder?I need something moreHere I am,
standing inside your love like a child.
Falling asleep at the wheel of my life
and letting you drive.
I'm letting you drive.Oooh....You're the only one,
You're the only one who can save me.I need something moreHere I am,
standing inside your love like a child.
Falling asleep at the wheel of my life
and letting you drive.
I'm letting you drive.Here I am,
right where I belong.
On the shoulder, hanging off the keys,
close my eyes and letting you drive
I'm letting you drive.
