OK, Let's Roll

L.A. Guns

United Airlines Flight 93
Left 8:01 from gate 17
The victims of a war, they never knew existed
Hell looked them in the eye and still they resistedLost brave souls your courage we remember
Sacrificed young lives, Black September
We still hear your battle cry
Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
Are you ready? Ok, let's rollSo began the massacre at twenty thousand feet
Red Devils lead the charge, pulled the captain from his seat
They watched them cut and slash at anyone left standing
We knew deep in our hearts, this plane would not be landingNever once were they ever in control
Lives were lost but they never took our soul
We still hear your battle cry
Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
Are you ready? Ok, let's rollSkies of Pennsylvania became a battle ground
Two hundred miles away, the towers had come down
One last chance to say goodbye, he called her on his phone
Said he knew what must be done, "I am not coming home"Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
Are you ready? Ok, let's roll
