

Thrones

These Reigning Days

Walls break down
Never to see it again
Fires put out,
See you at the crossroads
And we dance in the rain,
Cos we're playing the game,
Of a broken summer dream
And we look at the fire
It's a simple desire,
For the phoenix to rise againWe were the kings,
And you will never be, my queen,
We fight for the thrones,
And all that went before usEyes wide shut,
Sing it in a lullaby,
You break my heart,
Have you ever kissed a snowflake?
As I opened the door,
Where you loved me before,
And I see you loving him,
Now he pulls up your skirt,
You hold on to his shirt,
Let the phoenix rise againWe were the kings,
And you will never be, my queen,
We fight for the thrones,
And all that went before us
Bring me down
Bring me down
Bring me down
Bring me downWe were the kings,
And you will never be, my queen,
We fight for the thrones,
And all that went before usWe were the kings,
And you will never be, my queen,
We fight for the thrones,
And all that went before us

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>